

We think flying should be half the fun of your vacation. Not half the cost.

We're Overseas National Airways. Our friends call us ONA. We've felt since we carried our first passengers over a quarter century ago that you shouldn't have to spend a big part of your vacation budget on plane fares. And we've made our philosophy work.

We've made a lot of friends doing business the ONA way. In fact, it seems we've made ourselves a family. The ONA family.

When your travel agent suggests a great vacation, you can count on being part of the family if we're part of the fun. ONA. The Vacation Airline.

Who are all these smiling people?

Believe it or not, they're all part of one, big, very happy family. True, there's not much of a family resemblance. But there is one thing they have in common.

They just came from a great vacation. And they flew there with us.

We're ONA. The Vacation Airline. Each year more vacationers are flying with us. Why? Because our service is excellent—good food, warm, friendly personnel, entertaining in-flight movies and stereo—everything you'd expect from The Vacation Airline. And because of our experience. For 27 years we've been making dream vacations to all parts of world possible. At prices almost everybody can afford.

Where in the world would you like to go?

We'll take you wherever you'd like to go, on luxurious new widebody DC-10's (the only planes we fly). Europe. Africa. Central and South America. Mexico. Canada. The Far East. Hawaii. The Caribbean. And throughout the continental United States.

We pioneered low cost, high quality charter air travel. Today, we provide the wings for many of the largest and most successful tour operators in the country—the travel professionals who specialize in putting those dream vacations together.

So pick a place, any place. Your travel agent can arrange your trip, and you just might fly there with us.

Experience counts.

Each member of the "official" ONA family, our flight crews, is an experienced professional.

Our pilots have flown millions of miles in all kinds of aircraft. Every year they carry several hundred thousand passengers to and from their vacations. Smoothly. And very comfortably.

Our flight attendants come from many countries. They're trained to cater to all your inflight needs, to serve you graciously, and to help in all phases of world travel.

Flying with ONA is a family affair.

Because our passengers are our family. People who fly ONA look forward to flying with us again. And why not? We believe one good trip deserves another.
